Christopher and Kimberly,

There has been nothing new with our den since Tuesday. All evidence supports her still being in her den. The FLIR we're using intermittently shows a hot spot but it depends on current weather, wind, etc. No bear tracks or disturbance to the snow near the den have been observed.

Attached is one of the better FLIR images from yesterday and a true color image of the den location. Also attached is the traffic logs for the last two days.

Unless something changes at the den location I will send another update next Monday 1/2/17.

Thanks,

Beth Sharp
